O say! can you see,
by the dawn's early light.
What so proudly we hail'd
at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night
that our flag was still there.
O say, does that Star-spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Breve cenno storico.

Nel 1814, durante la guerra per l'indipendenza, una nave inglese cannoneggiò, per una intera notte, il forte americano McHenry. Su questa nave, quale prigioniero di guerra, vi era Francis Scott Key. Egli, vedendo alle prime luci del giorno la bandiera americana sventolare ancora sul forte, componeva i versi dell'inno nazionale degli S.U. d'A.
